“ It just not feel like it has been over 40 years since I first met Sylvia and Al. I remember when Kate and Joan first asked there mom if I could come over for a visit. Sylvia and Al treated me so well, and I always felt like part of the family. Sylvia was my second Mom and I really enjoy talking to her I will miss her.

“ I will always remember my cousin Sylvia and her husband Al. I think of them together and I'll remember them together. Sylvia brought Al into our family and he always treated us like his family. From their start, they shared one of the happiest days of their lives-their wedding day-with our whole family. It was a big celebration on a bright sunny day with young and old and everyone in between. They were happy and we were happy. As they made their way through life together, they continued sharing and caring, nurturing their immediate family and always making time and room and for the rest of us. Sylvia gave me a sense of connection to where we came from and how special that time and that family was. Thank you Sylvia! Thank you Al!

“ I wish that I could be there with all of you to share memories and hugs. I won't be there in person, but I will be there in spirit and I will be keeping all of you in my prayers. Sylvia will be missed but memories of her will live on with all of us as her love will live on in our hearts. I was too young to remember Sylvia's wedding as my brother John did, but many of my best memories are of family visits including Sylvia and Al and all of their family along with the extended family at the farm. Those visits were filled with true happiness and love. May love and good memories of Sylvia stay with all of us and help us to miss her less.

May God bless all of you,

“ We have lots of fond memories of time spent and visits with cousin Sylvia and Al - and all their kids and ALL their grandchildren. Even though I was quite young, I clearly remember attending Sylvia and Al's wedding in PA.

A story I'd like to share: When Sylvia was working on an advanced degree at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, she lived with us for a while. My father (John Hauser sr.) built a small, simple wood top/wrought iron legs table for her to use at home studies. I used that same table for most of my school work even into university. I still have that table in my house and still use it regularly. It is one of those physical objects that can carry memories of dearly remembered people and how they connected through the years.

Thank you Sissy, we all miss you and look forward to greeting you again when it comes our time.

Best love and wishes;

John and Marianne Hauser

“ I know my mother had a special fondness for all her Hauser cousins both growing up and summer gatherings at the farm over the years, and more recently after the death of her parents with a growing appreciation of the need to stay in touch with her more extended family.
